

EDITING EXERCISES

Justice John Laskin
January 2011

Ask yourself two questions

- What is the problem?
- How do I fix it?

1

- The intention of the parties is that the resolution of disputes under the agreement be governed by the application of Quebec law.

- The County sent an inspector who made observations as to the condition of the sidewalk and concluded that it was uneven.

- The court examined a number of cases and stated that there only appeared to be a limited number of instances in which there would exist a duty to disclose the illegal conduct of persons who, through political campaigns, seek election to public office.

- The fact that the buyer failed to inspect the goods constitutes waiver.

- Meditrust's assertion that it is not a proper defendant in this case and, therefore, relief cannot be granted is incorrect.

- Several nations in response to what they thought to be an inappropriate extraterritorial investigation by the United States enacted blocking statutes intended to frustrate the investigation.

- Ms. Hall, during the course of her struggle to provide for her children as a single parent, accrued considerable debt to her family and others.

- Affidavit evidence was filed by the plaintiff and by three witnesses on behalf of the defendant corporation.

- The amount of damages is determined by the measurement of the profit the dealer would have made by the sale of the car.

- Service will not be effective unless the document is delivered personally or by mail with an acknowledgment of receipt card.

- In the absence of any proof to the contrary, the court should presume that the administrator's functions have not ceased.

- The right to stop the work is the single most important factor in determining whether a party is in charge of the work within the meaning of the Act.

- The plaintiff is not in a position to provide additional affidavits to support its contention that W Corp. and Y Corp. are an integrated enterprise at this time.

- A case management conference was held on Sept. 27, 2006, and the result of said conference was that Williams was given an extension of time until Oct. 13 to respond to Damon's motion. Williams subsequently failed to file any response thereto.

- In the event that any employee is requested to testify in any judicial or administrative proceeding, said party will give the company prompt notice of such request in order that the company may seek an appropriate protective order.

- The professional fees in this project are entirely dependant upon the planning techniques that the architects are in favour of implementing.

- The court is of the opinion that it is within sound judicial discretion to determine whether, once the claim is asserted, the fraud exception is applicable.

- There are many cases that deal with adverse possession of islands.

- The effect of the decision is to abrogate the doctrine of sovereign immunity.

- If it had been the intention of the court to do otherwise, it would have said so.

- Each distributor is subject to the following requirements:
 - Keeping accurate books
 - A valid driver's licence
 - Under no circumstances shall a distributor work for a competitor

- Under questioning, Dr Jones testified that Smith had been merely simulating the symptoms of neck injuries, and in fact presented no observable trauma that could explain the pains of which he complained. However, doctors often treat patients who complain of precisely the same symptoms, but who also present no visible trauma, as Dr Jones was forced to acknowledge concerning her own experience. Therefore the issue of whether Smith suffered an injury cannot be held to be resolved by Dr Jones' testimony.

- An award of spousal support is within the discretion of the trial court, and its decision will not be disturbed unless it has abused that discretion. A failure to consider relevant factors is an abuse of discretion.

- Some astonishing questions about the universe have been raised by scientists exploring the nature of black holes in space. The collapse of a dead star into a point perhaps no larger than a marble creates a black hole. So much matter compressed into so little volume changes the fabric of space around it in profoundly puzzling ways.

- This case involves the novel issue of whether or not a minor is responsible for the damages sustained by a restaurant in lost profits resulting from a liquor licence suspension caused when the minor orally misrepresented his age to the owner of the restaurant who thereafter sold liquor to him.

- Section xxx of the BIA provides that the trustee in bankruptcy may avoid a transfer of a debtor's interest in property or an obligation incurred by the debtor made within one year before the date of bankruptcy if there existed actual intent to defraud creditors or the debtor received less than reasonably equivalent value in the transfer and the debtor was insolvent prior to the transfer or was rendered insolvent by it.

- When enforcing the rules against parking next to a fire hydrant, the police are under no obligation to take into account the value or condition of the parked vehicle when determining whether to remove it.

With thanks to:

- Bryan Garner, Legal Writing in Plain English
- Thomas Haggard, The Lawyer's Book of Rules for Effective Legal Writing
- Stephen Armstrong and Timothy Terrell: Thinking Like a Writer
- John Laskin