

Dealing with the lying adversary:

12. The Appellants' statement of facts is comprised of evidence they Appellants adduced, but which the trial judge did not accept. There are many examples, but the most significant examples are:

- The Appellants say X – in fact, the trial judge found Y;

<reference>

- The Appellants say M – in fact, the trial judge found N;

<reference>

- The Appellants say R – in fact, the trial judge found S;

<reference>

.....

13. The Appellants' statement of facts often is not accurate. There are many examples, but the most significant examples are:

- The Appellants say X – in fact, the trial judge found Y;

<reference>

- The Appellants say M – in fact, the trial judge found N;

<reference>

- The Appellants say R – in fact, the trial judge found S;

<reference>